2-Billion Aid to Schools Bill Wins a Round

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee today approved a $2.55-billion federal school aid bill. This was $252 million more than President Kennedy recommended.

The controversial measure was cleared on a 12-2 vote after the committee had adopted a new formula for distributing the money. The new plan was worked out late at a conference attended by administration officials.

Senate sponsors of the bill would not say that the White House had approved the new higher spending figure.

The legislation is to be taken up on the Senate floor starting next Tuesday. Its backers are confident they have the votes for passage. Last year the Senate cleared a even bigger measure by a 51-34 vote.

The Senate is to act first on the measure although lengthy hearings also have been held in the House.

The committee revised the grant formula to go back to that used in the school bill passed last year by the Senate.

The principal change was to include private school pupils in the count of a state's enrollment for the aid purposes. There is no money in the bill for private schools, however.

The chief effect of this is to increase heavily the aid for such states as Pennsylvania and Michigan which have large parochial school enrollments.

The bill also includes an equalization formula based on state income so that the poorest states will get three times as much per pupil as the richest one. The range is from $9.26 a pupil for Connecticut to $27.77 for Mississippi, South Carolina and Arkansas.

Money would be available for school construction or teacher salaries, or both. A state could set aside 10 per cent of its allotment for special educational projects.

State Wheat Crop 4.2 Million Bushel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 4,234,000-bushel Arkansas winter wheat crop was forecast by the Agriculture Department Wednesday.

The department predicted the state's peach crop at 1,600,000 bushels and late spring potato production was estimated at 310,000 hundredweight.

VP Johnson Arrives in Danger Area

By HAL MCCLURE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived in this strategic Southeast Asian nation today, bringing assurances that the United States will stand by its allies in the face of Communist danger.

The vice president, on a round-the-world mission for President Kennedy, came here for an on-the-spot study of Communist aggression in a guerrilla war in which an estimated 400 to 500 Vietnamese are being killed every month.

Ex-Cop Hired Fighter to Kill Man

MEMPHIS (AP)—An old prize fighter told a jury Wednesday that a former policeman hired him to kill his wife's first husband.

Joseph T. Towell, 59, was the state's major witness against James Lewis Ellison, 36, charged with solicitation to commit murder.

Towell testified that Ellison paid him $200 with a promise of more to come, drove him to West Memphis, Ark., to buy a .32 pistol and pointed out the intended victim's parking place.

"As God is my judge," Towell added, "I only agree to do it to keep that boy out of trouble. If I didn't, I knew he would get somebody else who might really do it."

Towell called police after leaving Ellison. He said the target specified by Ellison was James Robert Stutsy, 36.

Stutsy was the first husband of Mrs. Elvise Ellison, who got a divorce from Ellison two days after the alleged hire to kill negotiations.

A male jury of 11 whites and a Negro was seated to hear the case.

Wants JFK to Set Talk Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican congressional leadership called on President Kennedy today to end the "monumental stall" at Geneva by fixing a deadline for Soviet agreement to a ban on nuclear weapons testing.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, told a news conference: "You can't escape the conclusion that the Russians must be going on" with secret testing of nuclear weapons while the United States waits for an agreement.

He said the GOP Senate and House leaders agreed unanimously at a breakfast meeting that Kennedy, in the interest of concluding the negotiation within a reasonable time, "should now fix a time limit and so notify the Russians."

"It is perfectly apparent that the Soviets are not negotiating—they are conducting a monumental stall," Dirksen said in a statement summing up the GOP position.

"Because underground nuclear tests cannot be detected, it leaves the Russians free to continue this kind of testing if they wish while we have suspended our own efforts in this field."

Dirksen said Kennedy declared during his presidential campaign last Oct. 9 that he intended, if elected, to "prescribe a reasonable but definite time limit to determine whether significant progress is being made" at Geneva.

"In view of the notable lack of progress to this date, we feel that, in the interest of arriving at some discernible conclusion, President Kennedy should now fix a time limit and so notify the Russians," Dirksen added.

"We feel that this is not only essential to American prestige, but will make clear to the world the true intent of the Soviet Union."

Band Auxiliary Has to Have Financial Help From Public to Carry Out Its Program

Inventory of band equipment, excluding the building, is $55,000 and the program is growing larger each year, Mrs. Joseph Keesey, president of the Auxiliary announced.

This program at the present has 184 students actively participating. The cost per student per year is $75 and this does not include some $5,000 for inventory operation annually.

New instruments and repairs needed annually run $2,500; Concert music, individual events and teaching material annually, $1,200; Annual upkeep on uniforms, $350; Insurance, $345; Music stands, cabinets, chairs, telephone and misc., $300.

Thus the bare necessities for inventory upkeep annually is $4,695, which isn't enough. The organization is growing and the present indebtedness is $5,125 and the treasury balance is less than $25.

This organization is completely financed by the public. The band has to operate on money that is raised by parents of students and the school district does not contribute one dime to the program.

This youth organization is a vital part of the community. It builds better citizens, teaches students how to work together, makes them better musicians. The community demands on the band are greater than ever before. Practically all civic, city, school and church activities require the skill of the school band.

Now the Auxiliary has to have help if the band program is to continue at its present scale. Financial aid of the public will be sincerely appreciated and the reaction of the public now will determine the future of the band, Mrs. Keesey said.

School Offers Course on Reading

Registration for the Remedial Reading Course, which will be offered this summer in the Hope schools will begin Monday, May 15, at Paisley School between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Registration will be held Monday through Friday, James H. Jones, superintendent of schools, announced today.

Mr. Jones said this course is designed for pupils who are having reading and spelling difficulties. Students who are in the second and through the seventh grades will be eligible to enroll in this course.

A skilled teacher in the phonetic approach to reading will teach this course, and organize students according to grade or achievement levels. The period of instruction will cover a five week period from June 5 through July 7.

"We hope that parents who have children with reading difficulty will take advantage of this opportunity, as we believe that it will be of great benefit," Mr. Jones stated.

The cost will be $10 per student for the five weeks, provided as many as 30 students enroll, if fewer than 30, then it would be a little more.

For further information contact Miss Mamie Belle Holt, principal, Paisley School, telephone P105-73191.

Bomber Sets New Speed Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A four-jet B58 bomber has set a sustained speed, closed-course record of 1,302 miles an hour around a 670-mile rectangle, the Air Force said today.

The delta-winged bomber, piloted by Maj. Elmer E. Murphy of Poseyville, Ind., made the flight Wednesday.

Taking off from this test center, the B58 took only 30 minutes and 45 seconds to streak over the course, the corners of which were near Needles, Calif., Kingman, Ariz., Mormon Mesa, Nev. and Lone Pine, Calif.

The Air Force said the flight made it eligible for permanent award of the Louis Bleriot trophy, to be given to the pilot of the first craft to average 2,000 kilometers—1243 statute miles—an hour for 30 minutes.

Other members of the Strategic Air Command crew were Maj. Eugene J. Moses, Altoona, Pa., navigator-hombarider; and Lt. David S. Dickerson, Ardmore, Okla., defense systems operator.

The speed run was supervised by the National Aeronautics Association which will forward data to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris for certification for the award.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic appear to be ready to bury the hatchets they have been brandishing since 1958.

The two Arab leaders agreed to an early meeting in the interests of Arab unity but no definite date was fixed.

They Meet Their Match in Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wives of congressmen, bipartisan in their desire to escape Washington's summer heat, concede they have met their match in Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Their campaign is doomed because Rayburn, a bachelor, thinks a summer recess is "the greatest nonsense I've ever heard."

Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, wife of the Republican senator from Kentucky, was among those admitting Wednesday that their hopes had been scuttled. However, Mrs. Cooper added "It is still a good idea."

Taking up this lack, Mrs. Frank Church, wife of the Democratic senator from Idaho, said she hoped Rayburn would think things over and change his mind.

Mrs. Church was certain a summer respite would mean Congress would work harder and do a better job on return.

Thirty-three senators are sponsoring a resolution calling for a recess from July 1 to Oct. 1. But, said one of the sponsors, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., after Rayburn had spoken: "The Senate and House must operate at the same time, and that is that."

Review of Rape Case Is Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Thorp Thomas said Wednesday a petition would be filed with the U.S. Supreme Court next week seeking a review of a federal appellate court's decision in the Luther Bailey rape conviction.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Bailey's conviction on grounds of alleged discrimination against Negroes on jury panels in Pulaski Circuit Court.

The ruling resulted in the suspension of Negro jury trials in the court where Bailey was convicted in 1956 for the rape of a Little Rock white woman.

Judge William J. Kirby has refused to try any Negro jury cases because he said, any conviction would not stand on an appeal until the matter is clarified.

The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld him last Monday when it refused to order an immediate trial of three young Negroes charged with rape.

The federal court's ruling did not stipulate the percentage of Negroes needed for a jury.

The assistant attorney general said he would ask the Supreme Court for a speedy decision because the appeals court allowed the state nine months from March 17 to retry or set Bailey free.

Cease Fire in Laos to Delay Geneva Talks

By CARL HARTMAN

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Three Western powers were reported ready to take their seats Friday in a conference about the future of Laos, basing the decision on word received in London today that organized fighting has ceased in the jungle kingdom.

There was no official confirmation from the United States, Britain and France that they had dropped earlier reservations to participating in the conference if a cease-fire was not certified.

But sources close to the Western delegations said that, in view of the London news from Laos, they probably would agree to sit down at the conference table with their Eastern opposites.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Kennedy's roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, already are in Geneva. So is Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, arrived this afternoon.

Lord Home of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France were due later in the day and were reported planning to meet with Rusk to express official willingness of the three to take part in the conference.

A Foreign Office spokesman in London said an assurance that organized fighting had stopped arrived there from the Polish-Indian-Canadian control commission.

The commission's job is to certify and supervise the truce ordered between Laotian government and Communist-neutralist rebels May 5.

In making his announcement, the British spokesman cited complications.

"Communications are very bad, and it may be that sporadic outbreaks of fighting will still occur," the Briton said.

"With the fighting lines unstable, groups on both sides were left isolated from the main armies at the time of the cease-fire order May 5 and may still be involved in minor clashes."

In Vientiane, however, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan told the pro-Western Cabinet that pro-Communist rebel artillery was still pounding his troops' positions in the Tha Thom area.

Nosavan, who is the military strong man of Premier Boun Oum's regime, said that, as a result, the government's 11-man delegation would stay out of the Geneva conference until the cease-fire was verified and probably would not leave for Switzerland for several days. Phoumi heads the delegation.

W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's ambassador at large, arrived in Geneva with a prediction that the awaited official news will be coming along soon. He cited the presence of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, who heads up the Communist side of the conference, to which 14 nations were invited.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, arriving Wednesday night, said he would take part in the conference "only if information from Laos permits it." Harriman is to replace Rusk as head of the U.S. delegation when the secretary returns to Washington, perhaps next week.

Grand Jury in Session, Probes County Affairs

Hempstead County's grand jury was called into session today by Judge Lyle Brown "to determine if there has been any willful and corrupt misconduct in office of public officers," and other purposes.

Judge Brown assured that the findings of the grand jury will be made public when the current session is completed.

The jury will look into the administration of former Judge U. G. Garrett who has become the target of a citizens group which charges several illegal transactions were made by him during his term in office.

Two suits against the former judge have been filed by B. W. Edwards, retired contractor. A third taxpayers' suit was filed by Monroe Kent, a farmer. Each suit calls for the return of equipment which they allege was illegally disposed of by Judge Garrett.

Edwards also headed a group which financed a special audit of the county's books which was completed last week. A spokesman for the group, Attorney James H. Pilkinton who filed the suits, said he presumed the audit would be made available to the grand jury. Several witnesses have been subpoenaed for the current session.

There was no indication at noon today as to how long it would take the grand jury to complete its investigation.

House May Extend Mex Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House may pass a bill today extending for two years without change the "bracero" program—the import of Mexican laborers for seasonal farm work.

A strong coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats Wednesday shouted down a series of amendments aimed at making sure American farm laborers at least get wages and working conditions equal to the Mexicans.

The amendments were offered by Rep. Merwin Coad, D-Iowa. Coad had planned to offer an administration his plan embodying a number of safeguards for American migrant laborers, which he contended are being displaced in some areas by imported Mexicans.

But Coad and administration strategists backed away at the last minute and he offered the amendments piecemeal.

Rep. E. R. Gathings, D-Ark., introduced the bill to extend the import program without change. Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., guided the floor fight for the Gathings bill.

Accuses Sen. Russell of Smear Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—James S. Pope, a former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, accused Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., "of attempting to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data."

Pope, executive editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, wired Russell objecting to views expressed by the senator in testimony released Wednesday by the Senate Armed Services Committee. Russell is chairman of the committee.

A transcript of the testimony, taken in April, quoted Russell as agreeing with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that too many military secrets had been leaked and published.

The transcript quoted Russell as saying:

"About the public's having a right to know the most highly secret of our defense plans, I think that's absolutely ridiculous. I have an almost unspeakable contempt for any man in politics who would be frightened by newspapers telling him they would attack him because he was not giving them intimate details about defense planning."

In Pope's wire, released here, the editor said:

"Many editors will think this a contemptible effort to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data. If you know of any editor who has threatened a politician to extract military secrets you should name him."

"If you don't know of any such effort you should retract your smear on newspapers. Those editors who have fought for freedom of contempt of court for taking her son out of Tennessee in defiance of a court order.

"I married the boy's father when I was a junior in high school. It was a teen-age mistake and we were divorced in 1956. I got full custody of Andy."

Then she was discovered for her movies and wanted to take the child to Hollywood.

"I petitioned the court but my husband and his parents fought it. They believed Hollywood was the land of sin. There were postponements and more postponements. So one weekend I flew into Memphis and took Andy back to Hollywood with me."

The Tennessee court cited the actress and awarded custody to the father, Herman Stephens 23. A year ago the father came to Hollywood and took the boy back to Memphis.

Arch Ford Plugs for U.S. Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Despite some educational statistics in which the state ranks low, Arkansas is in the upper brackets in school expenditures as related to ability, Education Commissioner Arch W. Ford says.

And as long as it retains that position, "that's all we can expect from taxpayers without outside assistance," Ford added Wednesday.

Plugging for federal aid to education, Ford declared:

"Because of a wide variation in per capita income in the various states and because of the federal tax structure, it is necessary that we have federal financial support for education."

Ford quoted from a report compiled by Education Department statistician Frank Cannaday which showed the national average of personal income which goes to schools as 1.4 per cent and listed Arkansas average as 1.9 per cent.

The report showed Arkansas ranks 16th when state revenue for schools is figured as per cent of personal income.

What should the state do with any federal money it might receive in a federal aid program?

"I'd recommend that we allocate a major portion to teachers," Ford said.

While adding that he did not know exactly how much money the state would receive, Ford said, "I figure that the federal money, of public information have always excepted secret military data and you should know it."

Pope has been chairman of the ASNE Freedom of Information Committee three times.

McNamara appeared before the committee April 4 and 5. It was then holding closed sessions on the Kennedy administration's military budget.

The transcript released was considerably censored, but, it showed McNamara expressing shock that Pentagon security experts had released so much of his secret testimony on military matters.

At the time McNamara testified, newsmen were given copies of a prepared statement he took into the hearing room. This statement first was screened by Defense Department security specialists.

McNamara said the security screeners left in statements about weaknesses of U.S. military forces "which, if I were a Soviet military planner, would be of great value to me."

The transcript then quoted Russell as agreeing too many military secrets have been leaked and published.

Blue Scout Rocket Destroyed Purposely

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Blue Scout rocket shot off course and was deliberately destroyed by the range safety officer today about a minute after it was launched to probe the lower region of the Van Allen radiation belt.

The destruction button was pushed when the second stage of the 72-foot vehicle wobbled off course, the trail of white smoke from its solid fuel engine tracing a zig-zag in the sky.

Pieces of the shattered rocket tumbled into the Atlantic several miles off the Cape.

Texas City Jails Roving Negro Boys

By IRWIN FRANK

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—A young white rape victim and an intended victim picked a tentative suspect out of a lineup at 3:30 a.m. today after police arrested every Negro male between the ages of 17 and 20 they found on the streets.

The victim, a girl, 19, was raped while her 15-year-old sister lay terrified in the same bed.

The girl and a 50-year-old woman made their identification largely on the suspect's voice. He was masked during both the rape and the attempt—both early Wednesday.

Police Capt. Fred E. Johnson said, "I don't think it's a hot subject (suspect) personally."

The mass arrest of Negroes began at 3 p.m. and ended at 7 a.m. today when three more youths were brought in.

The one tentatively identified was an unemployed man, 20.

Johnson said the youth, who has not been charged and use of whose name at this stage is not privileged in Texas, has no criminal record, although he is an associate of known rapists.

The house trailer where an attempt was made on the elder woman is four blocks from the girls' home. The attempted rape occurred about 1 a.m. The younger victim was raped about 2:30 a.m.

Johnson said no charges were filed and all the youths arrested were booked for investigation. Some of them had records and the others were known to police to be either criminals or to have hung around with criminals.

Odesa has a population of 80,000, including several thousand Negroes.

Johnson said police think the masked Negro who raped the girl is the same man who earlier Wednesday morning attacked a 50-year-old woman in her house trailer and fled when the woman's daughter screamed.

"I don't want to hurt you," the 19-year-old girl quoted her attacker as saying. She said he held a knife to her throat while he forced her to undress and then raped her. Doctors confirmed she had been raped.

Murphy Corp. Earnings Up

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Murphy Corp. earnings were up 13.8 per cent for the first quarter of 1960 over the same period last year, the company reported today.

In a report to stockholders, Murphy said consolidated income was $1,307,000 or 39 cents a share, compared to $1,148,000 or 35 cents a share a year ago. The figures were adjusted to account for a merger with Spur Oil Co. since last year.

President C. H. Murphy Jr. attributed the increased earnings to increased marketing volume.

Farmer Killed By a Log Truck

WALDRON, Ark. (AP)—An 83-year-old retired farmer was fatally injured when he was struck by a log truck as he crossed state Highway 80 near here Wednesday.

J. W. Craig of East Waldron died about an hour after he was taken to a Waldron hospital.

Scott County Sheriff Clyde Hawkins said the driver of the truck which hit Craig was Oscar Silvey, who lives near here.

Silvey told awkins that Craig walked into the path of his truck.

er as saying. She said he held a knife to her throat while he forced her to undress and then raped her. Doctors confirmed she had been raped.

The victim's 15-year-old sister said she was awakened by the conversation and saw the knife in the man's hand. She said she pulled the covers over her head and pretended to be asleep until the man left.

Mrs. JFK to Visit London

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy's sister said today that America's First Lady will visit her in London early in June but the President "almost certainly" will have to return straight home after the Kennedys' visit to Paris.

Mrs. Kennedy "will be coming here for two days after the President's visit to Paris," her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, said in an interview.

McCormick Hurls 3-Hitter, Defeats Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Left-hander Mike McCormick pitched his second three-hit shut-out of the season Wednesday night as San Francisco, also held to three singles, beat Pittsburgh 3-0 and retained a one-game lead in the National League race. The Giants bunched their hits for all their runs with two out in the fifth—the only inning they put a man on base.

Unbeaten southpaw Johnny Podres became the first to win five in the majors, blanking Philadelphia on five hits for a 6-0 victory by second place Los Angeles.

Cincinnati won its ninth in a row, beating St. Louis 3-2, and Milwaukee edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit stayed three games out front by whipping Washington 7-1. Second place New York defeated Kansas City 9-4. Cleveland beat Chicago's White Sox 3-2 in 11 innings. Minnesota belted Baltimore 10-6 and Boston defeated Los Angeles 3-2.

An error by Pirate third baseman Don Hoak gave the Giants the big break after McCormick (3-1) and loser Bob Friend (4-2) had duelled through four innings of perfect pitching. Felipe Alou beat out a roller to third, and when Hoaks throw to first was wild, Alou went to second. That left first open and Friend walked Ed Bailey intentionally. Jose Pagan went to third and Pagan took second. McCormick brought them in followed with a run-scoring single, and when center fielder Bill with a single.

The Dodgers, winning four in a row for the first time this season, beat Frank Sullivan (1-3). Podres, still unbeaten, gave up nothing but singles.

A two-run homer by Vada Pinson in the first inning and an RBI single by Chico Cardenas in the third beat Curt Simmons (1-2) for the Reds. Bill Henry saved it for Joey Aay (2-3) in the ninth against four pinch-hitters.

The Braves handed Cub relief ace Eon Elston (4-1) his first defeat on a bases-loaded error by second baseman Don Zimmer that let in the tie-breaking run in the ninth. It was Bud Burdette's second victory in three decisions.

Porkers Set for Intrasquad Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A defensive drill, a day of rest and then a Red-White intrasquad game and the Arkansas Razorbacks are through with spring football practice.

The defending Southwest Conference champions displayed potent offense in last Saturday's first intrasquad game, but coach Frank Broyles wasn't happy with the defense and has stressed that angle this week.

Saturday's final game in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium should be a lower-scoring affair than the 34-28 clash in Fayetteville, if this week's work has achieved its aim.

Tackle Billy Clay and halfback Sammy Hilburn suffered ankle injuries in Wednesday's workouts, but both are expected to play Saturday.

Broyles left Wednesday for a conference meeting at Austin, Texas, but will be in Little Rock Saturday. The Porkers get a day off Friday.

Ronnie McWilliams pitched the Muleriders to victory in the nightcap, giving up only three hits.

Tribe Explode in 11th to Down Chicago

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians exploded for six runs in the 11th inning for an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night, giving right-hander Gary Bell his first victory after losing seven in a row, four this season. Detroit retained a three-game lead in the American League by beating Washington 7-1, while second place New York defeated Kansas City 9-4.

Minnesota tied Cleveland and Baltimore for third by belting the Orioles 10-6, and Boston defeated the Los Angeles Angels 3-2.

In the National League, Mike McCormick's second three-hit shutout job of the year gave first place San Francisco a 3-0 victory at Pittsburgh. Johnny Podres became the first to win five in the majors as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Philadelphia 6-0.

Cincinnati beat St. Louis 3-2, and Milwaukee defeated Chicago's White Sox 3-2.

Bell, a 16-game winner for the Tribe in 1959, took over the AL strikeout lead with 33 by fanning eight. He walked four and gave up seven hits, blanking the White Sox after Roy Sievers' solo seventh homer tied it 2-all in the fourth inning.

The Indians, who scored on Vic Power's home run in the second and added an unearned marker in the fourth against starter Bob Shaw, broke loose for the big six in the 11th against reliever Frank Baumann (1-2).

Detroit made it seven out of eight behind the five-hit pitching of Jim Bunning (2-2). The slim right-hander also singled home the clincher when the Tigers broke out for four runs in the second against Ed Hobaugh (1-2).

Tex Clevenger (3-1), winning in his first appearance with the Yankees since Monday's trade with the Angels, blanked the A's with four innings of one-hit relief after they tied it 4-all in the seventh against starter Ralph Terry.

The Yankees broke it up with five runs in the eighth, with Elston Howard's double beating Bud Daley (3-4). Norm Siebern homered for the A's.

Minnesota shelved Baltimore starter Dick Hall (1-1) in a nine-run second inning. Harmon Killebrew and Billy Gardner each hit three-run homers and Zoilo Versalles hit a solo homer. Jerry Adair drove in four runs for Baltimore, three on a pair of homers.

The Red Sox were held hitless

End This Form of Treason

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

The War Labor Board method of short-circuiting outrageous gouging and work stoppages in this country's missiles base program is being considered.

If President Kennedy and his advisers believe that it has even half a chance of getting needed results let's have it and fast!

The situation has passed the point of outrage and is becoming downright treasonable. Treason has many definitions and this one qualifies.

These facts have been developed by the Senate Investigation Subcommittee:

There have been 327 strikes at 22 missile bases in 4½ years.

One third occurred at Cape Canaveral from which the United States belatedly launched its first man in space last week.

The total of man days lost was 162,872.

Thirty unions were involved.

These figures add to one of the chief reasons why a gap exists between the American and Soviet missile and space programs. If this isn't treachery, what is?

We have previously commented on the "revolving" spectacle of some workers getting as much as $700 a week and many getting between $500 and $800 a week.

Victor Riesel, one of our columnists, says that in checking missile base pay rolls, "with no trouble at all you run into a blizzard of $250 to $350 a week checks."

It is the taxpayer who gets gouged for this—for excessive costs stemming from jurisdictional stoppages and forced slow-downs. He gets hit two ways—in the pocketbook and from consequential weakening of his defense cover.

The War Labor Board approach to ending an intolerable condition actually constituting a threat to the nation's safety, would involve the setting up of a panel on which public representation would sufficiently outnumber labor and industry members to prevent pan-for five innings at Los Angeles, then crashed through for three runs in the sixth against Ron Moeller (0-2). Winning pitcher was Tom Brewer (3-2).

New Record Likely in AIC Meet

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—A number of records may be topped at the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference track meet which begins at Harding College today.

"I'd say the 440 relay, 800 relay and sprint medley are the most likely to get" Lamar Watkins, coach of Ouachita's defending champions, said.

Preliminaries are this afternoon, with finals Friday night.

of deadlocks.

Industries and unions engaged in missile base construction would be asked to make a no-strike pledge and every type of disagreement, frivolous and serious, would be submitted to the panel for settlement. Its decision would prevail. Work would continue at the bases while disputes were under consideration.

If this method is not adopted another equally effective must be. Senator John L. McClellan, chairman of the Investigating Subcommittee, is exploring the matter with Labor Secretary Goldberg. Whatever their conclusion, we hope Senator McClellan will not let it interfere with his announced intention to sponsor legislation to curb strikes at defense installations.

That is something the country should have had 20 years ago when it was trying to prepare to meet the Axis assault. It would have saved time and lives.

Do readers recall the Not American aviation plant strike of that period? It was chiefly the result of the work of agents of the same enemy who now threaten our very existence—an enemy who is now immeasurably stronger and totally implacable and ruthless.

No nation hoping to survive can afford the luxury of labor banditry in its missile base program.

Dilemma Is How to Halt Communism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major dilemmas of the Kennedy administration is not lack of military power, which it has to enormous degree, but how to use what it has to stiff-arm the advance of communism.

It can't in any situation use that power without risking war. In some places it doesn't want to take the risk—as in Laos; in others it appears willing to—as in West Berlin.

There it is unwilling to take the risk it needs programs to win the allegiance of people who will otherwise buy communism if it seems to fit their needs.

Just because Americans despise communism, it doesn't follow that backward peoples also despise it. It offers more than they have now or can look forward to. In short, in some places ideas are better than tanks.

The administration says it is determined to defend West Berlin if the Russians try to shut it off. But it has to. The city is both the gateway to Western Europe and a symbol of Western unity.

Thus Secretary of State Dean Rusk at Oslo Monday was able to join with other foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in a firm resolve to stand up for Berlin against the increased Russian pressure.

This could mean war. But unless Berlin is defended, the Western alliance probably will fall apart. If so, the individual European nations will have to make their separate peace with Russia and his country will be left alone and isolated.

But the Kennedy administration has shown none of his determination in moving into Laos against the Red-led Pathet Lao guerrillas who have taken over two-thirds of the country while the United States gnawed its nails and waited for a cease-fire.

The eventual loss of all Laos to communism seems inevitable. But Laos, in an inside pocket of Asia, is a bad place for the United States to get involved militarily. There was no support for such a move in this country.

But the next, and much more important effort of communism, is in South Viet Nam. Again the United States may face the choice of intervening or seeing all Viet Nam go down the Communist drain. If it does, all Southeast Asia is open to Red pressure.

The administration talks of training guerrilla fighters and sending them into backward countries to train natives in that kind of warfare against potential Red guerrillas.

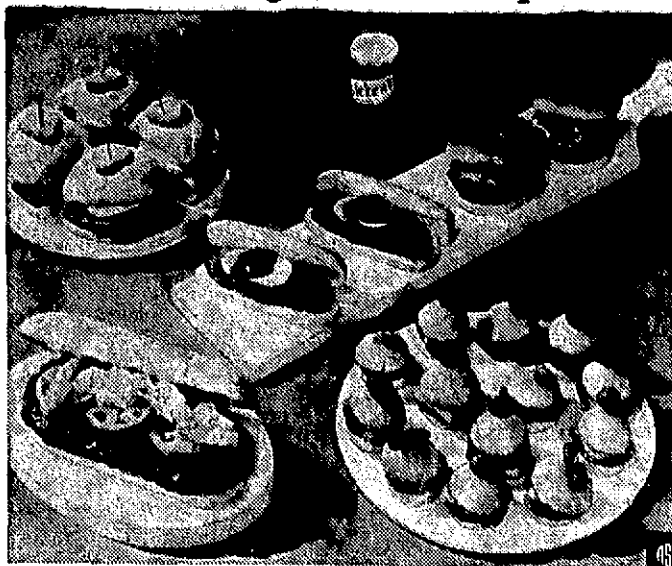

But the basic question remains: Are the backward people anywhere going to show any interest in fighting Communists if they offer promises and programs which seem better and more immediate than anything the local government backed by this country proposes?

Last Sunday in the Washington Post reporter Warren Unna, after a trip to Southeast Asia, wrote of the war in Laos where this country backs a right-wing government and Russia backs the Pathet Lao guerrillas.

"By general acknowledgment of both American and British officials on the spot, the Pathet Lao is capable of winning any nationwide election hands down," Unna wrote.

Unna didn't say why the Laotians prefer the Pathet Lao to the American-backed right-wing

Hamburgers Take Shape

Small, large, round or long... hamburgers are the shape of things to come. Some will be decorated with lettuce, tomato or onion, others with cheese—or a pickle or olive perched atop a toothpick.

All these hamburgers, irrespective of shape, size or garnish, will have one thing in common: delicious taste, because Ac-cent has brought out their full beef flavor and juiciness. Once your meat is well-seasoned, shape it to suit your mood—and almost any kind of bread or roll.

Shape-A-Burgers

1 pound ground beef 3/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Ac-cent 3/4 teaspoon pepper

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Sprinkle with Ac-cent, salt and pepper. Toss gently with fork to distribute ingredients. Form into 4 hamburgers. Panbroil or broil to desired doneness, turning once. Or cook to desired doneness on outdoor grill which has been lined with heavy duty aluminum foil. Yield: 4 servings.

For Frankburgers: Shape meat mixture into 4 oblong patties to fit frankfurter rolls.

For Hero Burger: Shape meat mixture into one large oblong patty to fit small loaf of French bread.

For Big Burger: Shape meat mixture into one large round patty. Split large round loaf of bread; place meat between halves. Cut in wedges.

Biscuit Burgers: Shape meat mixture into miniature burgers. Cook about 1 minute on each side. Serve in miniature biscuits.

Says U. S. Cheated on Income Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today Uncle Sam each year is cheated out of taxes on nearly $25 billion of income—more than enough to balance the federal budget.

Dillon told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the Treasury believes $24.4 billion of taxable income was not reported in 1959—the latest year for which an estimate is available.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, told reporters that at least 20 per cent of this amount—or nearly $4.9 billion—would have been collected in additional taxes had the income been declared on tax returns.

Dillon urged the subcommittee to restore $10.9 million cut by the House for the appropriation which President Kennedy asked for the Internal Revenue Service. Most of the money would go for hiring 2,300 more tax agents.

Wood Is Given Ross Award

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marvin L. Wood, director of the Arkansas Water Pollution Control Commission, today was named the first recipient of the Dr. Tom T. Ross Award of the Arkansas Public Health Association.

Wood was cited for his work in guarding the quality of the state's water. The award, top honor of the association, is named for the late Dr. Thomas Trigg Ross, a former state health officer and public health pioneer.

Faubus Appears in Libel Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus made a rare court appearance Tuesday when he testified in a $500,000 libel suit brought against the Gazette Publishing Co. by Mrs. Gladys Neal Brandon, former operator of a Little Rock nursing home.

Faubus was called as a witness by attorneys for the Gazette. The suit grew out of remarks Faubus made on operation of nursing homes at a news conference on July 18, 1959.

Trial of the case continued today in Pulaski Circuit Court.

for nine years aroused a nationwide furor.

White Supremacy Man Elected

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — Charles Robberts Swart, the candidate of South Africa's white supremacy government, was elected first president of the new South African republic today.

The Senate and Assembly, sitting as an Electoral College, gave 139 votes to Swart and 71 to former chief Justice Henry Allan.

Swart's election had been certain because of the ruling National party's majority in Parliament. He was nominated by Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd.

The story of Laos is likely to be repeated again and again in Southeast Asia and elsewhere unless this country can push the government it backs into doing more for the people than the Communists promise.

British to Hear About Spy Trial

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed today to make a report to the nation on the state of Britain's internal security network in the wake of the two sensational spy trials.

Parliamentary sources said Macmillan will deliver his report to the House of Commons Thursday.

The decision was learned following secret talks between Macmillan and the leader of the opposition Laborites, Hugh Gaitskell.

The meeting was called so Macmillan could tell Gaitskell what he originally said could not be disclosed to Parliament at large—the exact nature of the espionage carried on for nine years by diplomatic George Blake before he was sentenced last week to 42 years in jail.

The revelation that a ranking Foreign Office official could operate undetected as a Soviet spy

Remembers First Wash, Wear Shirt

BY DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I well remember that bright yesteryear when I bought my first wash-and-wear shirt. I bought it as a sort of Mother's Day present for my wife.

The reason I well remember this is because she had some trouble understanding the sentiment that was behind the purchase. I had to explain it to her several times.

"Look," she would say, "I don't like to appear ungrateful, but I can't see what your buying a new shirt has to do with Mother's Day."

"Well," I would reply, "since you don't have to iron it, it will give you more time to tend to the children."

In theory, I think I had a valid case. The instructions said that if I dunked the shirt in the laundry and draped it over a coat hanger overnight, I could put it on the next morning and go out looking like a fashion plate.

Back To Ironing

Unfortunately, it didn't work out that way. My shirt looked more like a plate of spaghetti. So it was back to the ironing board for good ol' Mom.

I was reminded of this experience upon reading, here in this week before Mother's Day 1961, an account of some research that the Agriculture Department is doing in the wash-and-wear field.

It was presented to a House appropriations subcommittee by Dr. G.W. Irving Jr. of the Agriculture Research Service. Apparently things haven't changed very much since I bought that shirt.

"One of the properties that has been observed by consumers in Wash-wear-type cottons is the somewhat less than optimum wet and dry wrinkle recovery of these fabrics," Irving told the subcommittee.

"The problem has not yet been solved largely because we do not know what the fundamentals are of wrinkling...we will have to get a more complete understanding of the mechanisms involved in wrinkling."

Tend to Wear Out

That, however, will not entirely solve the problem. As noted by Rep. Alfred E. Santangelo, D-N.Y., another trouble with wash-and-wear fabrics is that they tend to wear out after being washed a few times.

"I bought a suit when I was married and just outgrew it," said Santangelo, who has been putting on a little weight. "But the suits I buy today don't last a year."

Irving said this was because the treatments used "to provide the properties that consumers want in easy care and non-muss

Ike Needs Tourist Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower needs protection against tourists who are running all over his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, the head of the Secret Service said today.

"They come in and take plants right off the farm as souvenirs," U. E. Baughman told a House Judiciary subcommittee considering a bill to extend Secret Service protection to the vice president and former presidents.

Present law leaves Secret Service protection up to the discretion of the vice president and like his predecessor, Richard M. Nixon—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has rejected continuous protection, Baughman said.

Drowned Man Is Arkansan

WINFIELD, Kan. (AP) — A township road maintenance crew today found the body of a drowned man a short distance north of Winfield on U.S. 77.

The victim was identified from papers in his billfold as Dick Stevens, 52, of Wichita and Huntsville, Ark.

The highway has been closed by flood waters of the Walnut River for two days. Saturday, a pickup truck with only the cab showing was seen in the water but it was believed the occupants had waded out.

The body was found about a quarter of a mile from the stalled truck.

Sheriff Robert R. Clester said Stevens worked at an aircraft plant in Wichita but also had a home in Huntsville, to which he commuted on weekends.

His wife, Mrs. Chloe Stevens, and two children live in Huntsville.

fabrics often weaken the strength and durability of the fabric."

He said researchers are trying to overcome that handicap, to

It is heartening to know that the government is getting down to the fundamentals of wrinkling and I like to think that the day of optimum wrinkle recovery is close at hand.

Then I can go back to buying myself shirts for Mother's Day presents.

Multi-color "Tynex" nylon filaments in the proper degree of softness provide gentle, efficient cleansing action.

Sun-Bright Windows

ENJOY THE SUNSHINE while it's here, with sparkling clean windows. In grandma's day, keeping them that way was a real chore but today, there's a blue spray mist window cleaner which cleans glass quickly and efficiently without even getting your hands wet—just spray it on and wipe the window clean with a paper towel. The blue spray mist is recommended because it has a special preparation that cuts dirt and grease and leaves no film on the glass. Paper towels are preferable for window and glass cleaning because they are free from soap or detergent residue which tends to leave streaks or film.

This modern way makes a once tedious, yet necessary, household task easy and simple. Sunshine through clear, clean window panes gives a bright lift to your whole house—makes it a happier place for family and friends.

TO HAVE AND TO KILL

CHAPTER XII

Within half an hour the Daney residence and grounds were crawling with people. After Sergeant Griffiths' deceptively casual approach to the situation he had really started cracking. He knew his job, all right. I gave him a quick rundown of all I knew, not skipping a thing, not even Dixie McQueen's masquerade as Sandy's sister. He asked for a complete description of Max Daney and I gave him that, too, as well as the year and make of his car. He supplied the license number. Griffiths issued a pick-up order to all units in the area and then set headquarters in the little study where I'd played poker with Cecil and William Darmody, and had later had my interesting conversation with Laura Reynolds.

The medical examiner, a quiet middle-aged man with a graying crew-cut, had stated that, pending an autopsy, Laura Reynolds had died of a .22 caliber bullet wound in the left ventricle of the heart. The body had been removed to a nearby village undertaking establishment, because there was no police morgue in this remote section.

Right at the beginning, before the commotion, Sergeant Griffiths had assigned me the task of arousing the people in the house and asking them to dress and wait in the main drawing room. I went to Sandy's room first and knocked softly.

She opened the door immediately, fully dressed in a sleeveless white blouse and flaring beige skirt. I didn't know if Dixie McQueen was still asleep and so I put a finger to my lips and beckoned to Sandy. She stepped out into the hall and quietly closed the door.

"Good morning," I said.

"Good morning. Why are you skulking about at this hour?"

"Trouble. Is your roommate still asleep?"

"I think so. What kind of trouble?"

"Bad trouble, the worst. The bride has been murdered."

Her brown eyes grew wide and she didn't speak.

I gave her the high points quickly.

When I'd finished, she said soberly, "That's—horrible."

"It sure is. I've got orders to wake everybody up and herd 'em downstairs. Tell Dixie, will you?"

"Of course. It'll be a shock to her, though."

"Perhaps. Did she leave the room last night or early this morning?"

"I wouldn't know. When I hit that hay, I'm dead. She—" Sandy stopped abruptly and frowned.

"Jim, you don't think that—"

"I'm not thinking anything. Then she could have left without your knowing?"

"I suppose so." Sandy's eyes were troubled. "Does the policeman, this sergeant, want me downstairs, too?"

"He said, 'Everybody,' even after I told him who you are. By the way, I told him that Dixie is not really your sister."

"Oh, fine," Sandy said.

William Darmody's room was next. As I knocked on his door I heard the door to Sandy's room close, but I didn't look around. I knocked again, louder, before I remembered that Darmody could not hear. I turned the knob. The door was not locked and I pushed it open slowly and peered inside. The bathroom door was open and I saw Darmody shaving before a mirror with a gleaming straight razor. Except in barber shops I hadn't seen one in a long time.

He wore blue striped shorts and was barefoot. His naked torso was lean and muscular and his left forearm bore a blue tattoo, an anchor with the initials J. S. beneath it. I wondered if they stood for a wife or a sweetheart; they certainly were not his own initials. I smiled at him and said distinctly, "Good morning."

He watched my lips intently, his own lips moving, and then he, too, smiled and nodded, made an apologetic motion with the razor and continued shaving.

On a table by the bed were a pencil and his pad of blue note paper. A crumpled sheet of the paper was in a glass ashtray along with cigarette ashes and stubs. I picked up the pad and pencil, wrote, "There's been some trouble. When did you last see Miss Reynolds?"

He read, frowning slightly, took the pad and pencil from me and wrote swiftly and at some length. When he'd finished he tore off the sheet and handed it to me. I read: "Miss Reynolds came to my room late last evening and we exchanged a written conversation. She asked if I knew why Mr. Daney was not here. I wrote that I did not know, or where he was. She asked if I had seen Mr. Stockmaster. I said I had not, that perhaps he was in bed. She

It was my turn to write. "Miss Reynolds has been shot, killed. The police are here. Please come downstairs."

Hard to Tell Married From Single Girls

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is getting harder to tell the married girls from the single girls.

There was a time when it was easier. All you had to do was glance at a certain finger of her left hand, if she wore a gold band on it, there was no doubt about it. She was married.

But customs change. So do rings. Many of the married women in America's 20 million-plus feminine work force don't wear their wedding rings on the job. And many single girls wear rings which give them the air of matrimony but actually celebrate only the fact they were able to graduate from high school or are members of a winning team in the factory bowling league.

But there are other signs. It's a pretty safe bet a gal is married if—

Whenever she leaves home after dark, she is trailed, two paces behind, by a tired-looking man who looks as if his feet hurt him.

In reading a magazine she merely glances at an article titled, "America's 12 richest bachelors," then turns to one about "What's wrong with our schools?"

When she's dining out, she tells the man with her, "I'll take this, and you'll take that. It's better for your stomach."

She always kicks off her shoes in a movie house.

She can't name the latest male idol, but she can take a vacuum cleaner apart and put it together again in 15 minutes.

You look in her refrigerator and see eight bottles of milk and six cans of beer.

At a party you ask her to dance, a look of incredulous surprise sweeps over her face.

At a cocktail shindig, she keeps yanking at the same male elbow while yelping, "Remember what you promised. You said we'd go home after you had two."

She yawns when the talk turns to politics, but brightens up immediately if someone mentions a new recipe.

She tells the same man every morning five days a week "Let's go somewhere tonight. We haven't been out in ages."

When someone asks her what she does, she hangs her head, sighs, and says deprecatingly, "Me? Oh, I'm just a housewife."

But she wouldn't trade her job for any other career in the world.

A Sauce-y Chocolate Frosting

What's sauce for the pudding may be frosting for the cake! This fine sauce with the rich flavor of unsweetened chocolate can be made into a frosting just by adding two cups of sugar to the basic recipe.

Fudge Sauce and Frosting
5 squares unsweetened chocolate 1 1/2 cups (1 tall can) undiluted evaporated milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

Melt chocolate and butter in saucepan. Remove from heat. Add sugar, alternately with milk, blending well after each addition. Place over medium heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Then cook and stir about 8 minutes, or until mixture becomes thick and creamy. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Serve warm as a sauce. Makes 3 cups sauce.

To Make Frosting, use 2 cups of the above recipe and cool to room temperature. Then add an additional 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, blending well. Makes 2 1/2 cups frosting, or enough to cover tops and sides of two 8- or 9-inch layers, or 24 cupcakes.

Fish, Fowl Features at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fish and fowl will take over the top spots among weekend specials at many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

The abundance of these spring-time favorites exceeds the usual bargain standbys—beef, pork and lamb.

The fish specials include shrimp, scallops, smelts, halibut and frozen varieties.

The featured fowl are Cornish game hens, turkeys, frying chicken and ducks.

Rib roast predominates among the beef specials.

A great variety of vegetables is arriving on the markets as the weather warms up in the more temperate growing areas.

Among these newcomers are peaches, green cabbage, strawberries and yellow squash from South Carolina. Florida kohlrabi, North Carolina iceberg lettuce, Texas tomatoes, West Indies and Cuban mangoes.

Best buys among vegetables are beans, peas, carrots, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, broccoli, radishes, kale, dandelion, spinach, green onions, leeks, Western lettuce, onions, mushrooms, potatoes and rhubarb.

Good buys include asparagus, broccoli, fava beans, celery, Atlantic collards, mustard, turnip tops, eggplant, escarole, endive, parsley and peppers.

Best fruit buys are bananas, grapefruit and oranges.

Watermelons, strawberries, honeydew melons and lemons are good buys.

Advances a No Strike Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today announced steps to draft a program for President Kennedy to assure a no-strike plan on the nation's missile and space flight installations.

Goldberg said he is meeting with labor unions, contractors, labor relations experts and government officials to draft recommendations to Kennedy "for appropriate action to assure uninterrupted work on our missile program."

"A solution must be found," the labor secretary told a news conference.

The government move follows allegations made before a Senate subcommittee that labor troubles were causing long delays and labor cost waste at such installations.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Tuesday the subcommittee's hearings were being suspended to avoid interference with the President's efforts. C. J. Hagerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, said in a statement today that delays were caused more by nonlabor factors, such as design changes and poor management work direction.

British bird lovers have chosen the robin as their national bird, through the correspondence columns of the London Times. The red grouse finished second in the voting and the wren, third.

Sismograph Ship Damaged by Fire

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A smoldering fire broke out today on a sismograph vessel, loaded with explosives, in the Gulf of Mexico about 150 miles southwest of New Orleans, the Coast Guard said.

The vessel, identified as the Janice Walker, transferred its 10-man crew to the Sharon Walker, a sister ship.

Both ships are owned by Bernard D. Walker of Pascagoula, Miss.

The Janice Walker was "shotting" for sismograph readings and the Sharon Walker was recording.

Ike Says He Will Argue as a Citizen

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower served notice today that as a private citizen he will "discuss and argue" public questions as long as he has the strength and opportunity.

He announced his intention in an article in the Saturday Evening Post—the first he has written since leaving the White House Jan. 20.

He also disclosed that he was not sure he would not have sought a third term—if the Constitution had permitted and if he could have foreseen the Republican defeat in the presidential election.

Eisenhower said his decision to continue to play an active role in public affairs was reached as he and his wife were driving from Washington to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm after President Kennedy's inauguration.

"Suddenly, it seemed to me, this new life of mine promised a new kind of personal adventure," he wrote.

He said he long had believed the long-term health and vigor of the nation's free government depended on the level of each citizen's interest in America's basic problems "and his readiness to discuss and argue with his fellows."

And, he continued, "I then and there determined to be a participant in such discussions and arguments as long as I might retain the strength and find the opportunity to do so."

Telling of the sights as well as his thoughts on the countryside journey, he said his wife and he were given a heart-warming welcome by students and nuns of St. Joseph College near Emmitsburg, Md.

"And so we approached the farm," he resumed. "But I was still thinking, what next? What, if anything, can I do to stir up the public interest in important public issues?"

"Before we arrived at our front door I reached one simple conclusion:

"There is little reason for me or anyone else to think and talk of or to live in the past, smugly hugging to himself memories of successes or futilely bawling setbacks."

"The task is to use the past and its experiences to help us peer more clearly into the future and to do our best to make it better. 'This, in my own way, I shall try to do . . . I think it will be fun; I hope it will be useful.'"

Eisenhower left no doubt he was upset at the defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency and that this conceivably could have changed his thinking about the hypothetical possibility of a third term.

He indicated that one of the questions most frequently asked of him is: "Had there been no 22nd Amendment (restricting a president to two terms), would you have been, again, a candidate for the presidency?"

Eisenhower noted that he had said publicly prior to the election that he thought more than two terms were neither wise nor desirable—even if there were no such amendment.

"But the election upset my calculations, reversed my expectations and exploded my plans and, if I could have foreseen this development, what would I have then said? I think I know—but how can I be absolutely sure? I do not see what more one can say than que sera, sera (what will be, will be)."

Richard M. Johnson, vice president of the United States 1937-41, and Ben Johnson, once Federal district judge in Arkansas, owned two plantations in Chicot county.

Cleopatra's Barge to Sail Again

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If all goes well, Cleopatra's barge will again be floating down the Nile late this year.

This would be about 2,000 years after it sailed with the original crew and exactly one year after it was supposed to bear the latter-day Cleopatra, Elizabeth Taylor.

They're again preparing the delayed launching out at 20th Century-Fox, where no one seems daunted by the film's mishaps so far—the replacement of a director, the junking of the script, canceling of shooting after bad weather in England, Liz Taylor's near-fatal illness.

Least daunted is producer Wolter Wanger, despite the loss of $5 million before the movie has been started.

"With the worldwide publicity for 'Cleopatra' and with the brilliant new conception of the story by Joe Mankiewicz, I am positive that we will have one of the great screen attractions of all times," Wanger said.

"No star has ever had the attention of the world that Liz Taylor has. I made a picture with Greta Garbo, another with Ingrid Bergman at her height. Neither of them matched the clamor that now exists for Liz."

Wanger said the shooting will resume in late August and Liz is anxious to begin. "But it can't be before that because she must have plastic surgery to cover her neck scar, and her leg is not recovered yet," he said.

Exteriors will be shot in Rome and Egypt where the barge is under construction. The interiors will probably be filmed here though that has not been decided yet.

Youth Stabbed to Death by Gang

NEW YORK (AP)—A teen-age boy was stabbed to death Tuesday night when he stuck up for a friend who was being slapped around by gang members.

The victim was John Panico, 14, of Ozone Park, Queens.

Dennis Luchuck, 15, of Brooklyn admitted the slaying, police said. He was held for questioning.

Medal for Dr. Dooley Authorized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee has authorized a medal for Dr. Thomas A. Dooley III, a physician who sparked a program of medical aid for Southeast Asia before he died of cancer last Jan. 18.

The House Banking Committee approved a bill authorized $2,500 for a gold medal honoring Dooley. The bill now goes to the House for floor action.

Family Terrorized By a Prowler

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A prowler terrorized a family early today before firing a random, shotgun blast into a bed where seven children lay huddled in fear. Three of the children were wounded, none seriously.

The assailant, who threatened to kill the entire family, escaped.

Jo Anne Grimes, 13, oldest of the five brothers and sisters and two cousins on the bed, was the most seriously wounded.

Also wounded were cousins David H. Grimes and Tommy Harrison, each 12. Both were treated for head wounds and released.

Sheriff's officers said the shotgun blast was fired at 2 a.m. by a man who went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Grimes, parents of five of the children. He threatened to kill the entire family unless Mrs. Grimes was sent outside.

The blast which struck the chil-

Body in Water Is Identified

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sheriff's officers say a body found floating in several inches of water in a roadside ditch near here Monday has been identified as that of Herman Cosby, about 40, of near by Ferndale.

Deputy Richard Howard said that two men who lives at Ferndale and worked with Cosby at a lumber company here made the identification Tuesday.

Howard said death had been ruled the result of drowning, but an investigation was continuing. Officers sought to learn how Cosby got into the ditch. He is believed to have died early Sunday.

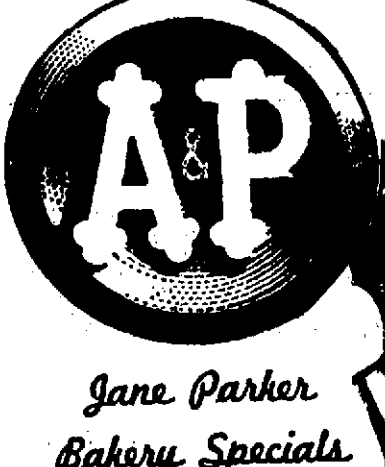

Children riding in a school bus spotted the body Monday.

Children was fired into the through a closed window.

Deputies said the angle of the shot apparently saved the lives of the children.

Cereal Crisp Fried Chicken

Take advantage of plentiful chicken and serve Cereal Crisp Fried Chicken with Spicy Peach Sauce. Crushed oven-toasted rice cereal and melted butter or margarine give the chicken its crisp coating. The spicy peach sauce adds an unusual zip to the chicken.

This is but one use of versatile, economical, breakfast cereals as a recipe ingredient. Breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy. Use them often to improve the nutritive value of your cooking.

Cereal Crisp Fried Chicken With Spicy Peach Sauce

2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal, crushed to make 1 cup crumbs

1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon paprika

1 3-to-3 1/2 pound frying chicken, cut into serving pieces

1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

Spicy Peach Sauce:

1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) sliced peaches

1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar

2 teaspoons sugar

1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Combine cereal crumbs, salt, and paprika. Dip chicken in butter or margarine, then in crumb mixture. Place pieces in shallow 2-quart baking dish, attractive side up. Drizzle any remaining butter or margarine over chicken. Cover with foil and crisp edges of foil onto edge of dish. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) 25 minutes. Remove foil and bake until chicken is browned and tender, 35 to 40 minutes longer. Combine sauce ingredients. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Pour over chicken during last 10 minutes cooking time. Yield: 4 servings.

Had Ideas on Jewish Extermination

By THOMAS A. REEDY

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann advanced some proposals for exterminating Jews that went even beyond Hitler's plans, the prosecution charged today at the former Gestapo officer's trial.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Gavriel Bach told the Israeli court that at one stage in World War II suggestions arose within the Nazi hierarchy that half-Jews in the Netherlands should be considered full Jews, and thus be marked for death.

Objections to this idea arose from the army and even Hitler himself, Bach said. The argument was that extension of this principle eventually would force one-quarter Jews serving in the German army to quit military service.

Bach said Eichmann, however, advocated classifying half-Jews as full Jews and this "showed" Eichmann in certain points was even more extreme in his approach to the Jewish question than Hitler himself.

Bach made his accusation during a day of testimony on the Nazi extermination of Jews in the Netherlands and Belgium.

A short, stocky schoolteacher testified that the Nazis wiped out the Jews of Holland and "forever made Tuesday a day of dread."

To this day, even in the safety of Israel, "we retain a sensitivity to Tuesday," Dr. Josef Melkman testified.

That was the day of the week in Holland when the Jews were lined up at 3 a.m. to hear the names of those chosen for deportation to the east.

They all knew, Melkman said, that was the end of the road.

"The names would be read out like a death sentence. For all the horrible things I saw then and later, this still remains my strongest impression."

Melkman, a survivor of Bergen-Belsen, was presented by the prosecution to illustrate the case in Holland against Adolf Eichmann, charged with being a major accomplice in the Nazi extermination of six million Jews.

Most of Melkman's family — uncles, aunts and cousins included — were among the 134,000 Dutch Jews who died in the reign of terror. Only 6,000 of Holland's Jewishry survived, he testified.

Melkman himself was on the way to the Esenstadt gas chambers when his death train was blocked at Torgau, on the Elbe River, by the fast-joining Soviet and American armies.

The witness told of "horrible sights" in his last few months at the Belsen camp and "even cases of cannibalism which I saw in the women's camp where they had no food at all."

He said one inmate reported camp commandant Josef Kramer told the transport crews, "the more dead Jews you bring here the better." Kramer and the women's camp boss, Irma Griese, known as "the beast of Belsen," were hanged by the British.

Restriction on News Not Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today assured the nation's press that his administration contemplates no type of government restriction on access to news.

Kennedy took that position in a conference with eight newspaper executives who came to the White House to learn more about his plea for a form of self-censorship in view of the Communist threat to the nation's security.

Kennedy made his proposal in a speech before the American Newspaper Publishers Association 10 days ago.

Today's conference was set up at the request of the editors.

After more than an hour with the chief executive, the group told White House newsmen that both the government and the press will continue to study Kennedy's proposal and meet again in several months.

Felix R. McKnight, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and executive editor of the Dallas (Tex.) Times Herald, said he does not believe that world events require the establishment of machinery to censor information.

McKnight, acting as spokesman for the group, added that he believes only "a declaration of na-

GE Official to Testify May 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating price fixing in the electrical equipment manufacturing industry announced today that Ralph J. Cordner, chairman of the General Electric Co., will testify May 18.

Mark W. Cress Jr., president of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., will testify the day before Cordner, the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee said.

The testimony of these top executives of the two largest companies in the industry is expected to conclude the subcommittee's inquiry, at least for the time being.

Twenty-nine companies, GE and Westinghouse among them, and 45 individuals were fined nearly $2 million last February after pleading guilty or no contest to federal charges of price fixing and bid rigging.

The committee has been trying to develop additional information about the case, and particularly to find out if responsibility for the illegal activities went higher in the corporations than was brought out in court.

The testimony of these top executives of that kind "would necessitate the creation of machinery to screen news for security content."

In his speech to the publishers Kennedy said no hot war ever posed a greater threat than the cold war advances of communism.

Fancy Chops For Spring

Pungent American blue cheese provides a distinctive flavor for a simple bread stuffing that turns moderately priced pork chops into company fare for spring meals. Definitely on the fancy side, these double thick pork chops are cut with a pocket which is filled with the savory stuffing. The chops are baked for one hour. Only a little blue cheese, which is low in calories, is needed to transform popular pork chops into a gourmet treat.

Johnson to Troubled Viet Nam

By Spencer Davis

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson heads today for troubled South Viet Nam and talks with President Ngo Dinh Diem on means of countering a raging jungle war with Communist guerrillas.

His big Military Air Transport Service jet, crossing the international date line, was due to arrive in Saigon at 6:40 p.m. May 11 by way of Guam.

In a statement prepared for his departure at 8 a.m.—1 p.m. EST —from Hickam Air Force Base Johnson declared that "to be responsible to its great trust, the United States must and will maintain its strength and vigilance."

"We are engaged in a decisive competition in which we will be measured by the efforts we make as much as by the end we attain," he said.

Johnson emphasized that the answer to "communism's deviousness is our own determination."

"This we must have," he said. Johnson refused to discuss details in advance of his two-day consultations with Diem in Saigon.

During his overnight stay in Honolulu, Johnson conferred with Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of the U.S. armed forces in the

Driver Buried Under Shale

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A 48-year-old truck driver was killed today when a mountain of shale collapsed on him.

Efforts to revive Luke Duffield Jr. of nearby Pottsville failed when he was dug from the shale more than an hour and 15 minutes after it collapsed.

Duffield was using a loader to fill his truck with shale when the huge dump collapsed, burying him and his loader and truck.

Other shale haulers who happened by discovered the accident and summoned equipment from Russellville and the nearby Dardanelle Dam project to remove the shale.

Duffield is survived by his widow and five children.

Pacific.

State Department officials accompanying Johnson said privately the time for additional U.S. action in South Viet Nam has arrived.

The military situation there has worsened since the war in Laos opened new avenues for the infiltration of Communist guerrillas.

In addition, the large buildup of arms and equipment delivered to Laos by Soviet aircraft appear far more than the Pathet Lao rebels require.

U.S. strategists are convinced that these arms will be transferred to the jungle war in South Viet Nam as soon as the fighting in Laos is halted.

A New Season...A New Dessert

Welcome summer with a festive dessert made from the new orange-pineapple flavor gelatin. This combination of fruit flavors is delicious served plain, and makes interesting salads, as well as a wide variety of more elaborate desserts. Used here in Pineapple Dapple, it is the base for a rich and tasty filling, as well as the thickener for the "dapple" of pineapple. You will find this is a refreshing dessert that can be made in the cool of the morning to serve in the afternoon or evening of a warm summer day.

Pineapple Dapple

1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 can (8-1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple
1 regular size package (3 ounces) orange-pineapple flavor gelatin

1 1/4 cups boiling water
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1/4 teaspoon orange rind
3/4 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sour cream

Combine crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add butter and mix well. Press firmly into the bottom of an 8-inch square pan. Chill.

Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add pineapple juice. Cool. Meanwhile, combine cream cheese, orange rind, 3/4 tablespoons sugar and vanilla.

Combine 1/2 cup cooled gelatin and the pineapple. Set aside. Gradually add remaining gelatin to cream cheese mixture, blending until smooth. Fold into sour cream. Pour onto graham cracker crust. Chill until firm. Then carefully spoon on the pineapple mixture. Chill. Makes about 9 servings.

Saucy Butterscotch Tops All

Butterscotch, as typical of Scotland as plaids and bagpipes, takes a quick trip around the world to join forces with crushed pineapple in an exotic dessert sauce. This meeting of West and East produces a sauce of mellow color and flavor that glamorizes ice cream or cake.

Thanks to butterscotch flavored morsels, the sauce can be made in a few minutes and, once made, it keeps well in the refrigerator. Butterscotch morsels are the same size and shape as the famous semi-sweet chocolate morsels that go into Toll House cookies. Like the chocolate morsels, too, they can be eaten as a candy, put into cookie dough, or melted for use in sauces, frostings or baked goods. But they have a flavor all their own, the flavor so popular in traditional butterscotch candy. Because these morsels melt so readily, they need only be stirred into the simmered pineapple to complete the sauce.

Butterscotch-Pineapple Skillet Sauce

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons butter
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Put crushed pineapple with syrup into saucepan. Add butter and bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and stir until melted. Yield: Approximately 1 1/2 cups.

Note: If sauce is chilled in refrigerator, reheat over low heat, before serving.
